ShareMouse spans a large work space across all computer on the desk and transmits the mouse and keyboard data through the existing network connection – There is no additional hardware is required.

Secure AES data encryption is now included in the entry-level “Standard Edition”.

Data Transfer between Computers

ShareMouse allows users to drag and drop files between computers and to paste the clipboard of a remote computer.

This makes it easier to transfer data between Macs and Windows PCs without the need to configure network file sharing.

New version 4 now also supports RTF formatted text and bitmap clipboard transfer between computers.

Login/Logoff Synchronization

ShareMouse v4 can now synchronize the login, logout, lock, shutdown and screen savers on multiple computers of a workplace.

If any screen saver on any computer is engaged, the screen savers of all other computers are being activated as well.

This new feature is useful for all software developers, stock traders, power users and control desk users who are running multiple computers on their desk.
